

The hygostat ETF2000 is UL approved, and the product is marked according to it

The device covered under this category is incomplete in certain constructional features or restricted in performance capabilities and is intended for use as a component of complete equipment submitted for investigation rather than for direct separate installation in the field. The final acceptance of the component is dependent upon its installation and use in complete equipment submitted to Underwriters laboratories Inc.

Models

ETF2000

Item number cross-list

| | | |
|-------------------|---|---------------------|
| Eldon item number | - | UL File item number |
| ETF2000 | | RFHSS-112.110 |

UL File

UL File number: E254658

The updated UL file information about this item can be checked in the UL website www.ul.com.

Product Management